Re: Tele-Guia Talking Yellow Pages, Inc. v. Cablevision Systems Corporation
Case No.: 07-cv-3948-DLC

Dear Judge Cote:

We are counsel for Plaintiff in the above-referenced matter. We write with your permission asking for a brief suspension of the upcoming court ordered dates. Opposing counsel has been advised of this request and reserves the right to oppose this request if the settlement negotiations stall.

This is the first request for suspension of these dates, and the request is not brought for purposes of delay, but rather to allow the parties time to further negotiate settlement documents, which counsel are close to completing. For this reason, and to ensure that Plaintiff does not fall into technical default, we ask for a brief suspension of the upcoming court ordered dates, which are as follows: 1) Plaintiff is to respond to Defendant's Interrogatory No. 4 by tomorrow, February 15, 2008; 2) Plaintiff is to file the Amended Complaint by tomorrow, February 15, 2008; and 3) Plaintiff is to serve the Amended Complaint by March 7, 2008.

Thank you for your attention to this matter. We await your response.
